

Communal Functions of Social Comparison

Zlatan Krizan & Frederick X. Gibbons (Eds.)

Table of Contents
About the Editors
Contributors

Section I: Introduction and Theoretical Bases

Communion in Social Comparison Theory: A Tale of Two Ironies

Zlatan Krizan (Iowa State University) and Frederick X. Gibbons (Dartmouth College)

Agency versus Communion in Social Comparisons

Kenneth D. Locke (University of Idaho)

Section II: Inter-personal Level

Sparing Others through Social Comparison

Anne Zelle (Augustana College) & Julie J. Exline (Case Western Reserve University)

Communal Comparisons within Close Relationships

Penelope Lockwood (University of Toronto)

“Fitting In” Via Social Comparisons

Zlatan Krizan (Iowa State University)

Section III: Group Level

When Inter-group Distinctions Promote Intra-group Bonding

Hart Blanton (Texas A&M University)

Communal Comparisons across Social Identities

Michael A. Hogg & Amber Gaffney (Claremont Graduate University)

A Sociological Perspective on the Comparison Process and Communion Using Identity Theory

Jan Stets & Peter Burke (University of California at Riverside)

Section V: Socio-cultural Level

Gender Differences in Communal Comparisons

Serge Guimond (Universite Blaise Pascal) & Armand Chatard (Universite de Geneve)

Cross-Cultural Variation in Comparison Processes

Heejung Kim & Joni Sasaki (University of California at Santa Barbara)

Section VI: Commentary

The Role of Communion in Social Comparisons: A 30-year perspective

Jerry Suls (University of Iowa)

Author Index

Subject Index

